Carbon Literacy

As the climate crisis intensifies, the role of educational establishments in shaping a sustainable future has never been more critical. In response, the DfE has set a clear directive: by the end of 2025, all schools must appoint a Sustainability Lead and implement a Climate Action Plan.

The recommended training for those involved in this area of work is the accredited 'Carbon Literacy' course - a globally unique climate action initiative developed by The Carbon Literacy Project. During one-days' worth of interactive online training, learners will:

- Learn about all sources of carbon emissions and how these can be addressed in the education sector
- Discover how low-carbon actions can be beneficial to schools
- Understand the scale of the challenge, what they need to do, and which actions will have the greatest impact in helping your school reach net zero
- Commit to two significant carbon reduction actions within their own control to reduce your school's carbon footprint
- Be empowered to make informed everyday low carbon choices
- Be empowered to talk to others about climate change

Governor and Trustee Training

We believe that good quality and relevant training is essential if Governing Boards and Trust Boards are to discharge their responsibilities effectively and efficiently.

SIPS Education offers a training programme for Governors and Trustees of all levels and experience and draws on both the Maintained Schools Governance Guidance and the Academy Trust Governance Guide to support your journey as a Governor or Trustee.

If you are new to governing, we strongly recommend that you complete our new e-learning induction training as the best way of giving you a good understanding in what it means to be a school Governor or Trustee.

If you are more experienced you may feel that you know your role well, however, as guidance, legislation and policy are constantly changing it is useful to keep yourself up to date by attending ongoing training regularly.

In addition to training courses, we hold termly Chairs Briefings – preparing for the term, these are open to all governors and trustees and will include a termly agenda briefing and cover local and national changes and developments you need to be aware of. It will also provide an opportunity to network with other governors/trustees.

All training courses are held virtually via MS Teams or Zoom.

Please note if your school has purchased the Governor and Trustee Training Programme all courses except Safer Recruitment and Safer Recruitment Refresher are included in the package.

The minimum number of participants required to run a course effectively is three, should the minimum number of participants not be met, the course may be rescheduled or cancelled.

Bespoke Training

We can also offer bespoke training for your Governing Board or Trust Board.

Sometimes, your training needs will be bespoke to the needs of your board and may require the involvement of all Governors or Trustees. We are able to provide school-based expert led training sessions to meet your needs.

The cost of this type of training will be bespoke to each session and prices are available on request.

Please contact governortraining@sips.co.uk for more information.

An important part of our role as Sandwell Music Education Hub (SIPS Music and Arts Service) is to provide opportunities for teachers to take part in specialist training and networking to support their CPD and meet the requirements of the National Curriculum for Music, Model Music Curriculum and National Plan for Music Education June 2022.

We offer a range of centralised training courses all FREE to Sandwell schools and delivered by highly skilled music educators.

We recognise that not every school is able to employ a teacher with a music specialism and so we take this into consideration through providing a variety of support packages.

For a staff meeting or bespoke Music CPD in your school, we are able to deliver to your whole team, focusing on specific aspects of music teaching and music pedagogy. We can also deliver fun activities and well-being sessions for team building activities through fun musical experiences.

Please contact music@sips.co.uk for more information.
